

La Bastide

EN GASCOGNE

BARBOTAN | GASCOGNE | FRANCE

Just like an Italian Palazzo overlooking a garden with fountains ...

SUMMARY

Nestling in the heart of Barbotan, an ancient Gascony Spa Village, and watched over by the medieval church, this beautiful 18th century former Carthusian monastery welcomes you under its centuries old plane trees.

The stone arcades of its ochre facade leads you inside to a succession of elegant salons and dining rooms.

Barbotan is located at the heart of the valleys of Gers, an area whose simple beauty chimes perfectly with a relaxed pace of life.

The area's fascinating history is unveiled in the old stones of Roman villas, Knights Templar manor houses and medieval bastides. But treasure also is found in the golden amber liqueur distilled in the Armagnac stills.

18 ROOMS | 7 SUITES

Designed for a gentle, rural, fresh, modern and refined tempo, the 25 rooms, suites and lodges of 25 to 90 m², all have a magnificent view over our gardens or the village's fortified church.

All rooms have light oak parquet floors, and for your comfort and pleasure are equipped with king-size beds and silky quilts, 26" flat screen TV, Wifi, large wardrobes, mini-bar, safe, air-conditioning and direct dial telephone.

All bathrooms are decorated with white Émaux de Briare tiles and have a beautiful window at the front façade. For your further comfort, there are vast Walk-in showers.

4 Deluxe and Master Suites, located on the ground floor, feature a private terrace with sunbeds.

DINING

Under the creative guidance of Michel Guérard, the Restaurant, with its wide bay windows, fireplace and old wood-panelling, will delight you with two exclusive cuisines:

one gourmet yet terroir cuisine, the second one healthily fresh and balanced.

Enjoy an afternoon by the fire in the library, a summer dinner under the lime tree, relaxing in the soft cushions of our sofas with a glass of tawny Armagnac from our vines; the harmony of Barbotan's luminous simplicity celebrates these exquisite pleasures.
